

- Critical Path

- Fortunately, for our last sprint, we were able to make sure that all of our stories were independent from each other

- We simply completed all stories simultaneously to get them done fastest
- To make sure our sprint stayed on schedule we did the following:
  - As with sprint 3, we set deadlines for each individual story
    - Deadlines are visible on the corresponding cards on Trello
  - We had standup meetings every other day to keep everyone accountable
