The tasks that had dependencies:

Exam Viewer depended on the exam links from the course page and vice versa.

There weren't any major dependencies this sprint. Each task / feature were almost independent that everyone was able to work on their parts smoothly

We have stand ups every other day to make sure that we give an update and ensure we are on track.